On July 5, meet Fairview School alumni who will share their experiences of attending this school between the 1930s and 1970s. The free program is open to the public and will be taped and broadcast by CATS (Bloomington's Community Access Television Services).

This program is sponsored by Heritage Education Resources, Inc., a non-profit devoted to the development and provision of services and resource materials for the exploration of heritage and cultural diversity.

Save the Date! Free Summer Concert by P.H. Resident Sunday, August 5 at 2 PM

PHNA Picnic Update

The PHNA summer picnic on Sunday, June 3 at Building & Trades Park was a big success and lots of fun for all who attended. Over 50 people came, many joining us for the first time. We welcomed some new neighbors, and they learned more about what makes Prospect Hill such a special place for us all.

There was great food, good conversation, lots of play time for the kids in attendance – in short, a good time was had by all. We hope to see even more folks next time!

Charlie teaches Patrick Murray some macaw sign language.

Tennis, Anyone?

David Wierhake, our neighborhood Parks Ambassador, would like to revive tennis at Building & Trades Park. The basketball court area used to be a tennis court and he believes it could function for both sports with a little help from the city.

David would like to hear from you if you are interested in playing tennis AND are willing to voice your support for a Neighborhood Improvement Grant application for the city to retrofit the court with a tennis net and posts.

Please contact David Wierhake at sellingideas@hotmail.com.
